KOREA

Korea is today a modern, bustling hub of East Asia. It is a peninsula jutting off of China and Japan is only two hours away. Despite this close physical proximity to the neighboring countries, Korea has a distinctive culture of its own, which has developed during its 5,000 years of history. Visitors can expect to meet a lively population with its own language, writing system, architecture, cuisine, and many other manifestations of a unique cultural heritage.

Daejeon

Daejeon is a major center for advanced science and technology in Korea. Daedeok Science Town lies within the city limits with more than 200 research institutions of governmental and private sector agencies. Daejeon is a beautiful city in harmony with industry and cultural heritage. It is a former capital of the ancient Baekje Kingdom and home to relics and artifacts dating from 4th century as well as the Stone and Bronze ages.

Attractions

Uiam Historical Park
The park, nestled under Mt. Gyejeoksan in Gwang-dong, is a time-honored structure, where famous Joseon-era Confucian scholar Song Si-yeol(1597-1689) lived.
Uiam was his pen name. The ruins of the buildings were restored as a historical park. Among the cultural assets and properties are Namjoongjeongsa(98 structures), Dagugyeong and Songg Daejeon-pan (Wooden Printing Blocks of the Books by Song Si-yeol).

Baekje Cultural Land
It was established to share the ancient history of the Baekje Kingdom of Korea. The site houses Sabgun Palace, which is a restored palace of the Kingdom, Neungsan, a major temple of Baekje, Living Culture Village, Baekje Historical Museum and much more.
